What are the differences between "crack", "slit", "crevice", "split"

For the most part, the words are interchangeable. Distinguishing between multiple examples of such things can be aided by their individual connotations: crack a line on the surface of something along

"Split in half" vs. "split in two" - which one is correct?

Does the "in" imply multiplication, in which case split in half is correct, or is it division? It sounds like the latter to me, but I've heard it used both ways.

Are split infinitives grammatically incorrect, or are they valid

Split infinitives involve the to-infinitive specifically. The "to" not a "preposition"; it is a infinitive marker. Lastly, I found your arguments about "wanna" & "gonna" unconvincing and irrelevant because these

When to use split and split up

What should be used in below sentence: "split" or "split up", and why? We need to split up the background image of the website into two parts.

"The splits" vs "a split"

The problem with this is that unlike the runs or scissors or the heebie-jeebies or any other example I can think of, The Splits has multiple forms of use that necessitate a singular form. No one
